ANTHONY JOSEPH was renominated as a candidate for delegate to congress from New Mexico at the Las Cruces convention yesterday.

THE EAGLE said something last week about the republicans of this district looking around for a candidate for county commissioner. He was found yesterday.

DON: H. KENZIE has caused the ring some trouble in republican county conventions in times past and the ringsters placed him in the chair yesterday to get him out of the way.

COL. J. P. MCGUINITY was earnestly solicited to become a candidate for the legislature before the democratic convention last Saturday but persistently refused to allow his name to be used.

THE republicans got pretty badly mixed yesterday. The program worked all right at the start, but several of the faithful were left out in the cold and now they are wondering who "knifed them."

The Primaries at Allison.

I have been an amused but disinterested spectator of the recent political primary conventions held in this precinct upon the 8th inst. The democratic meeting was much the better attended of the two, being held at the school house where all could meet upon common ground, it consequently caught the larger crowd. Republicans as well as democrats were on hand, nobody being barred, and after the usual family row over preliminaries, a vote was taken for delegates, which resulted in an overwhelming victory for one of the factions.

The republican mass, or more properly speaking, select meeting, was the one which created the most amusement for the spectators and aroused the ire and stirred up the bile of some of the dissatisfied and disgruntled disciples of the rail-splitter and the Plumed Knight.

In accordance with the seeming policy of the party at present, the meeting was held at the private residence of a Spanish gentleman who was ordered by the "White Caps" some time since to cease operations or leave the country, and as a consequence a full attendance was not elicited. Some eight or ten of the privileged and patriotic members of the G. O. P. however, including the committeeman, who seems to be a bosom friend of the aforesaid Spanish gentleman, braved all dangers, met in solemn conclave, and animated by that landible but sometimes inconsiderate desire for places and positions of power and plunder, which has so often led the party to defeat, disaster and to the verge of destruction, elected their quota of delegates including the S. G. to represent precinct No. 4, in the coming county convention. We hope the S. G. will attend in person and not be deterred from doing his duty, nor have his loyalty, patriotism, allegiance, republicanism or honesty brought into question by his more aristocratic associates.

The pops., independent, people's party or by whatever name they style themselves, have not organized as yet, although they talk of doing so in the near future. If anything happens worthy of note, will inform you.

SPECTATOR.

Cattlemen throughout the county are pretty busy just now on the roundup. The calf crop is considerably above the average but it is feared that there will not be enough feed to run stock through the winter. In some parts of the county there is very good feed while in others the feed is quite short.

The bicyclists of this city had a picnic at Silvears' ranch last Thursday evening.

Born to the wife of J. W. Childers, at Pinos Altos, on Sunday, September 16, 1894, a son. Mother and child doing well.

Dr. Williams was elected vice president of the territorial medical association at the meeting at Albuquerque last week.

Born, to the wife of J. W. Pennewill, of this city, on Saturday, September 15, 1894, a girl. Papa Pennewill is the proudest man in town.

The windows for the Episcopal church have been ordered and Rev. Cross is expected back in the near future, when regular services will be resumed in the church.

There was an eclipse of the moon last Friday night. Occurring on the eve of the democratic convention it foreshadows the eclipse of the republican party on the 6th of November.

The pupils at the normal school have formed a literary society which will meet on the 2nd and 4th Saturday evenings of each month. The officers are: Eugene Warren, president; Bella Gaddis, vice president; Hattie Whitehill, secretary; Alice Bailey, treasurer. Besides the regular literary exercises there will be music, arrangements for which will be made by the music committee which consists of the following members: Maude Knuckey, Lida McIntosh and Essie Abraham.

The lawn fete and soap bubble social which was given at the residence of Mrs. W. L. Jackson, by the ladies of the Methodist church, last Wednesday evening was a success in every particular. The soap bubble contest was quite interesting, both to participants and onlookers, and the prizes were fairly won. The prize for ladies was awarded to Miss Florence Laizure, but Rev. Fitch and Prof. Theilmann blew bubbles with equal facility and the prize for gentlemen was divided between them. There were about fifty persons present.

George Bell had quite an exciting adventure with a bear while he was out on his recent hunting trip. He met an ugly old fellow and happened to have nothing offensive or defensive about him except a six shooter with five loads in it. The bear did not appear to be inclined to get out of the way and George opened fire. The bear retreated into the brush but after Mr. Bell had emptied his revolver, and having no more cartridges, he began to get uneasy and started back to camp in a hurry for a Winchester. When he returned the bear was dead. The party of which Mr. Bell was a member killed five bears during the time they were out.
